O.M.,

I'm going to Dublin on Wednesday or Thursday next on my way to my Aunt's in Westmeath.
If you can borrow Barrett's (Clifton Quadrant Electrometer, we might try the stars again, as I'm bringing over new cells.

I met Mr. Wilson (of Daramona) a few weeks ago in London, & he has asked me to have a try with his large telescope when I go to Westmeath. After leaving Dublin, I shall visit him in Westmeath & try the cells with his telescope. It appears that he has a room under the telescope in
wh. the Electron. can be kept quite dry & free from draughts.

Since the summer, I ~~had~~<sup>got</sup> made a new apparatus for fixing the cells to a telescope. I am getting another made, wh.
