I prophesied (a priori) that Fluorescence ought to be accompanied by a loss of the energy transformed & that this might be collected as current. So it is! I have just proved it by making emulsions of gelatine & fluorescein etc. Red light falling sends spot to + & devil

Shall make several expts. again.
Read a heavy paper before Physical Society last Saturday. They were so much interested that they have asked me to bring the whole subject of Photoelect. with all experiments before them at next meeting (tomorrow week).
The above fact will be a nice addition.

Please drop me a line at once giving any ideas on the above.
