7th Oct. 1850

My Dear Francis.

My object in requesting you to post these things for me was to render assurance doubly sure. We have a little cross post here in which difficulty often arises as to my foreign correspondence. All this will be avoided by posting in London and I shall therefore feel much obliged if you would have them packed up as you propose.

When I made use of the number with regard to the testimonial, 15 or 20, I referred exclusively to the number to be sent over — I shall thank you to have 100 copies at least printed for me — they may prove of great value on some future occasion. I should like to send ~~a copy~~^{copies} to Faraday and others and shall therefore be glad to receive the remainder when they

the thing to me.

I shall gather up my thoughts this evening and write to the President — tomorrow I will send you the letter — Immediately afterward I will write to Sir Robert Kane.

Most heartily do thank you for all the trouble you have taken in this affair — I only wish that some opportunity may be afforded me of proving by my acts how I value your kindness.

With best wishes dear Francis
most sincerely yours

I. Tyndall
Buy parcels which you send to me by rail
be kind enough to direct to the Dunbridge station of the S.W. Railway — Stockbridge is the post town, but Dunbridge is the place for parcels are ready.

The packet which I now send contains copies of the memoirs from the 2nd downwards, and translations of some of them which appeared in Poggendorff. The parcel which you were so kind as to send me a day or two ago contained the translation of the last memoir - I send you a number as you may possibly decide on having it sent along with the others.

Along with these the parcel contains the English testimonial, the copy of Dr. Percy's and a duplicate diploma - I shall leave it to you to decide whether the translation, or the diploma should be sent or not, and shall rest entirely satisfied with your decision whatever it may be.

I have read the testimonials, carefully, and have made one or two slight alterations - I would propose that Sabini's certificate should come between that of DuBois and Brunson - The arrangement beyond this is I think the best possible.

I omitted a few words in Magnus's testimonial which now stand upon the margin - they are not very important and may be omitted if you like -

Don't you think that some ^{like} remark ~~sincere~~ to that which I have written at the end of ~~it~~ might be introduced - & A similar one as Percy suggested
