

P.S. I don't know to what extent it is right for an expert to commit himself beforehand as to what he can or cannot bear witness to. I expect the position you should take up on my behalf is, if you think my evidence of value to advise them to send me a fee and ask me for an affidavit. Send me back my letter, for I have no copy, if I am to give evidence in its lines. I have no idea what the fee should be but I would not take less than £5:5:0.
