My Dear Sir, 8/58

As I have been appointed to represent the University of Berlin at the Tercentenary of the University of Dublin, will you allow me to recall in pleasant memory my meeting you at Bath in 1888, where we were stopping at the same hotel.
You are indeed the only member of Trinity College who will not be a perfect stranger to me.

I take therefore the liberty of applying to you for kind information regarding the itinerary sources whence I may gather information on the history of Trinity College. As in other respects I hope soon to become familiar with your University, I have the desire to get somewhat acquainted with its origin, development and institutions.

You would greatly oblige me by giving me some indications. The books will probably have to be had at the Royal Library of Berlin.

Hoping to have the pleasure in a few weeks to renew your acquaintance

Yours very truly

F. Richthofen
